

Mission

While the music world has opened up more and more to the independent artist, it has also diluted fundraising and marketing opportunities.

It has become more challenging for the artist to pursue their dreams and passions. QoLMB's goal, as an organization with the LGBT community's interest at heart, is to centralize fundraising and marketing in one location eliminating the multitude of crowd funding sources and social media marketing platforms.

Centralizing it will get everyone's energy focused in one direction, expanding reach and freeing the artist to spend more time creating.

Our goal is to change the world for the independent singer songwriter. We want to work to reduce or eliminate obstacles to their dreams and passions.

We hope to one day have a network of recording studios that will help us reduce costs even more.

Sustainability is important and we have left the door open to allow us to change and modify to stay successful but also grow the communities we serve. We are creating a pay-it-forward mentality where each subsequent project stands on the success of the previous. We want to give the beginning singer songwriter the ability to see dreams to fruition.

Stephen Sims
Executive Director
Quest of Life Media & Broadcast
Jan. 2018